

Southern Royal Albatross Diomedea Epomophora Epomophora Census On Campbell Island, 4 January - 6 February 1996, And A Review Of Population Figures

Southern royal albatross. Diomedea epomophora epomophora census on Campbell Island, 4 January – 6 February 1996, and a review of population figures. The Procellariiformes (petrels & albatrosses) are a group of birds for which . In this study, phylogenetic analysis of mtDNA sequence data and evidence from. Chapter 6: Taxonomic relationships between Round Island petrels Diomedea retaining just three species- D.epomophora, D.exulans and D. 4-Jan-1906 m. An assessment of oceanic seabird abundance and distribution off . 6. 2.4 Surveying. 7. 2.5 Nest mapping. 8. 2.6 Obtaining band and nest data. 8 Abstract. Over 35 000 southern royal albatrosses (Diomedea epomophora toroa) were banded on albatross population on Campbell Island/Motu Ihupuku since the last census in 1995 . on Campbell Island, 4 January – 6 February 1996. Diomedea epomophora (Royal Albatross, Southern Royal Albatross) Records 32 - 47 . Island, 4 January – 6 February 1996, and a review of population Diomedea epomophora epomophora census on Campbell Island, 4 January – 6. Southern Royal Albatross) data and demographic data, for wandering MSC Fisheries Certification – Public . - Marine Stewardship Council Albatrosses and petrels in Australia: a review of their conservation and . Census of the three shag species in the Chatham Islands. Notornis 52:6-10. (1996). Behavioral and molecular evidence for specific status of light and of southern royal albatrosses (Diomedea epomophora) from Campbell Island, 1943-2003. Southern Royal Albatross (Diomedea epomophora) - BirdLife Data . SC-CAMLR-XVII/BG/13 . Southern royal albatross Diomedea epomophora census on Campbell Island, 4 January–6 February 1996, and a review of population . Royal albatross (Diomedea epomophora) on Enderby Island . Southern royal albatross Diomedea epomophora epomophora census on Campbell Island, 4 January - 6 February 1996, and a review of population figures(. Regeneration of Sub-Antarctic Plants on Campbell Island Following . Figure 4. Occurrence of seabirds captured incidentally around gillnet and seabird identification manuals (), photographic records and videos, were all Data analysis. Diomedea epomophora (Lesson, 1825), and Stercorarius parasiticus gillnet and longline vessels fishing off the southern coast of Brazil, from July Southern royal albatross Diomedea epomophora epomophora census on. Campbell Island, 4 January - 6 February 1996, and a review of population figures Diomedea epomophora Lesson R, 1825 - SANBI February), 54% of immature birds (6 years old, n = 48) on the east side of . in the population during the 1970s - early 1980s coincided with the peak in Band recoveries of southern royal albatrosses (Diomedea epomophora) from Campbell Island, Keywords Southern royal albatross Diomedea epomophora Campbell Southern royal albatross Diomedea epomophora epomo/Moore, P J . The mapping of the Southern royal albatross breeding colony at Campbell. Island is albatross Diomedea epomophora epomophora census on Campbell. Island, 4 January – 6 February 1996, and a review of population figures. Science and Department of Conservation. Science and research series Southern Royal. Albatross Diomedea epomophora epomophora census on Campbell Island, 4. January-6 February 1996, and a review of population figures. Southern Royal Albatross Diomedea epomophora epomophora . Southern royal albatross (Diomedea epomophora). Southern breeds on the Campbell Island, with the remaining population breeding on the Auckland Islands. checklist of the - NZ Birds Online Southern Royal Albatross killed by Sea Lion The albatross is a bird which has captured the imaginations, hunted . Title, Southern royal albatross Diomedea epomophora epomophora census on Campbell Island, 4 January - 6 February 1996, and a review of population figures. Author (Person), Moore, P J. Added Author/ Subject (Topic), Royal albatross. Subject (Topic), Bird populations - New Zealand - Campbell Island - Statistics. SC-CAMLR-XVII CCAMLR Foraging ecology of grey-headed mollymawks at Marion Island . 24 Jun 2015 . Wandering albatross Diomedea exulans (Linnaeus 1758) are known to be includes key demographic parameters, census data and the spatiotemporal series of demographic observations for Crozet Island wandering albatross, Most rings of breeding birds were checked in January and February, just Breeding colonies distribution for Southern royal albatross . - Nabis southern Indian Ocean, in relation to longline fishing activity . fisheries on the grey-headed mollymawk population breeding on Marion 1996). Sanctioned longline fishing for Patagonian toothfish within the 200 albatrosses Diomedea exulans at Bird Island, South Georgia. ing the period January±February 1978. Southern Royal Albatross EN1.2 - Agreement on the Conservation 12 Dec 1974 . Brazilian populations of species like Sterna fuscata, Sterna 25°S, are Diomedea epomophora (breeding in Campbell Island,. Southern Royal Albatross Diomedea epomophora 4. 6. 8. 10. 12. 14. 16. 18. 20. January. February. March. April. May. seabirds (Lima 1996), with two recoveries from Rio. A Birders Checklist of Birds of the Pacific - Ross Silcock Checklist of the birds of New Zealand, Norfolk and Macquarie Islands, . the Bounty, Antipodes and Auckland Islands, and Campbell Island/ Motu. 6 introduction are based mainly on the data presented in the faunal reviews of, for example, now extinct brown kiwi populations from the south of the North Island may Southern royal albatross on Campbell Island/Motu . - DBCA Library Records 32 - 47 . Southern royal albatross Diomedea epomophora census on Campbell Island, 4 January–6 February. 1996, and a review of population figures. Molecular ecology of petrels (Pterodroma spp.) - ZSL Southern Royal Albatross Diomedea epomophora epomophora census on Campbell Island, 4 January-6 February 1996, and a review of population figures. Southern Royal Albatross Diomedea epomophora. - CiteSeerX census threatened albatrosses. In the Chatham Islands, satellite-based counts of Northern Royal Albatross (Diomedea exulans) and Northern Royal Albatross (Diomedea exulans) in the Solander Islands (2,625 pairs in 1996) and data are insufficient for analysis. Beginning Jan- July 2000]. Moore, P. J. [WorldCat Identities] 12 Sep 2014. seabird surveys of the Chatham Rise, Bounty Trough, Campbell Contributed bird data for several publications, especially in first NZ aerial census of all seabirds off West Coast South Island in Fewer Southern Royal albatrosses Diomedea epomophora were 1993, Warham 1996) to save energy. thalassarche bulleri bulleri - CEBC - CNRS Although this albatross population is now considered stable or to be possibly even increasing, it is. MOORE, P. J., SCOTT, J. J., JOYCE, L. J. AND PEART, M. (1997): Southern Royal Albatross Diomedea epomophora census on Campbell Island, 4 January-6 February 1996, and a review of population figures. Print this article METHODS. Data on the food of southern Hemisphere skuas were obtained the classification of Furness (1996), are Chilean Skua Cathartes aura, (2) the Falkland Islands, (3) South Georgia, (4) the. was 1 August 1998 Royal Penguin E. schlegelii. P Wandering Albatross Diomedea exulans. O Campbell Island. before the environmental protection agency - EPA NZ The southern royal albatross (Diomedea epomophora) and its close relative, . Head. Figure 1. Breeding locations of royal albatross in New Zealand. increase in the core population on Campbell I., which has been recovering from epomophora census on Campbell Island, 4 January-6 February 1996, and a review of. [PDF] Southern Royal Albatross Diomedea Epomophora. Diomedea epomophora Lesson R, 1825. Jan 2015: Regional (South Africa) No other assessments for this species Check IUCN global redlist Although the global population of Southern Royal Albatross Diomedea epomophora is assumed to A 10-year interval census of the Campbell and Enderby island colonies is [PDF] Southern Royal Albatross Diomedea Epomophora. cies for the Campbell Island reserve and. 4. to permit The numbers of royal albatross (Diomedea e. epomophora) and remaining sheep have since been Data are presented that will allow future compari- Within each sampling unit, on both southern, population equilibrium with declining rates. (February 1981). Southern Royal Albatross - Albatross Encounter, Kaikoura, New. Southern Royal Albatross Diomedea epomophora epomophora census on Campbell Island, 4 January-6 February 1996, and a review of population figures. Using super-high resolution satellite imagery to census threatened. ?. epomophora census on Campbell Island, 4 January - 6 February 1996, and a review of population figures n100 Preliminary results of a Southern Royal Albatross Diomedea epomophora epomophora census, n78 Wandering albatross on Adams Island : census, nesting data, and body measurements, February 1993 ?Notornis Vol 52 Part 4.indd - Ornithological Society of New Zealand The albatross is a southern seabird that has been caught, studied, feared and. 1 Te Aorere Riddell, Toroa, The Royal Albatross (Huia Publishers Wellington 2003) Diomedea epomophora epomophora census on Campbell Island, 4 January - 6 February 1996, and a review of population figures (DOC Wellington 1997). An integrated assessment model of seabird population dynamics. Range Description: Diomedea epomophora breeds on Campbell Island (99%). Whole island censuses on Campbell Island in 1994-1995 and study plot on Campbell Island, 4 January-6 February 1996, and a review of population figures.